IN SHORT

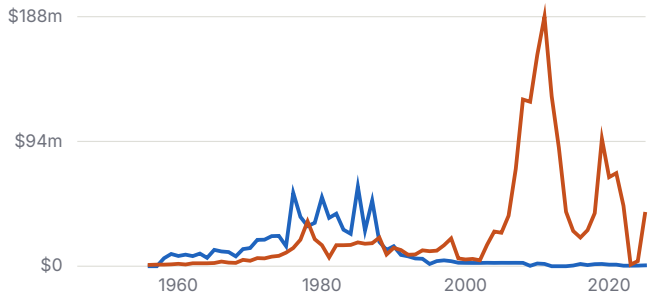

- UCDP records the United Kingdom fighting the Taliban, then in power in Kabul (2001). That authority does not hold the UN seat of Afghanistan, and the UN is this site's reference. Who the relationship is with, and which rules apply, is therefore unclear, so the site computes no index for this pair.
- At the UN their vote agreement is 69% (2022–2024), lower than either of them has with most countries.
- Trade in goods ($15 million a year) is a very small part of either country's trade, under 0.5%.
- In its UN General Debate speeches, the United Kingdom names Afghanistan far more often than the reverse (80 sentences against 25).
- 99,000 people born in Afghanistan live in the United Kingdom (UN DESA counts place of birth, however long ago they moved). A separate count, by UNHCR: 68,000 refugees and asylum seekers from Afghanistan in the United Kingdom; the two counts measure different things and are not added up.

HOW SURE WE ARE

UN votes	Medium	113 shared votes on whole texts in 2022–2024, the years the headline share covers. With that many, a share is good to about ±9 points.
Trade	High	Goods trade is reported in 3 of the 3 years 2023–2025. Goods only, from customs data (IMF); services and energy pipelines are not in it.
Security	None	Not computable: relations between the two, and the rules that apply to them, are unclear, because the government that holds a UN seat and the authority that rules there are not the same.
Shared clubs	High	The list of tracked groups is fixed; membership is checked by hand.
Index	None	Not computable: relations between the two, and the rules that apply to them, are unclear, because the government that holds a UN seat and the authority that rules there are not the same.
